[V I S I O N]

Realise your VISION!

Hello young video-maker! Ever shared a beach photo on Facebook or tweeted from a concert? Ever read an inspiring article or book, or watched a film that changed the way you think? If yes, then you'll know there are many ways to reach and interact...

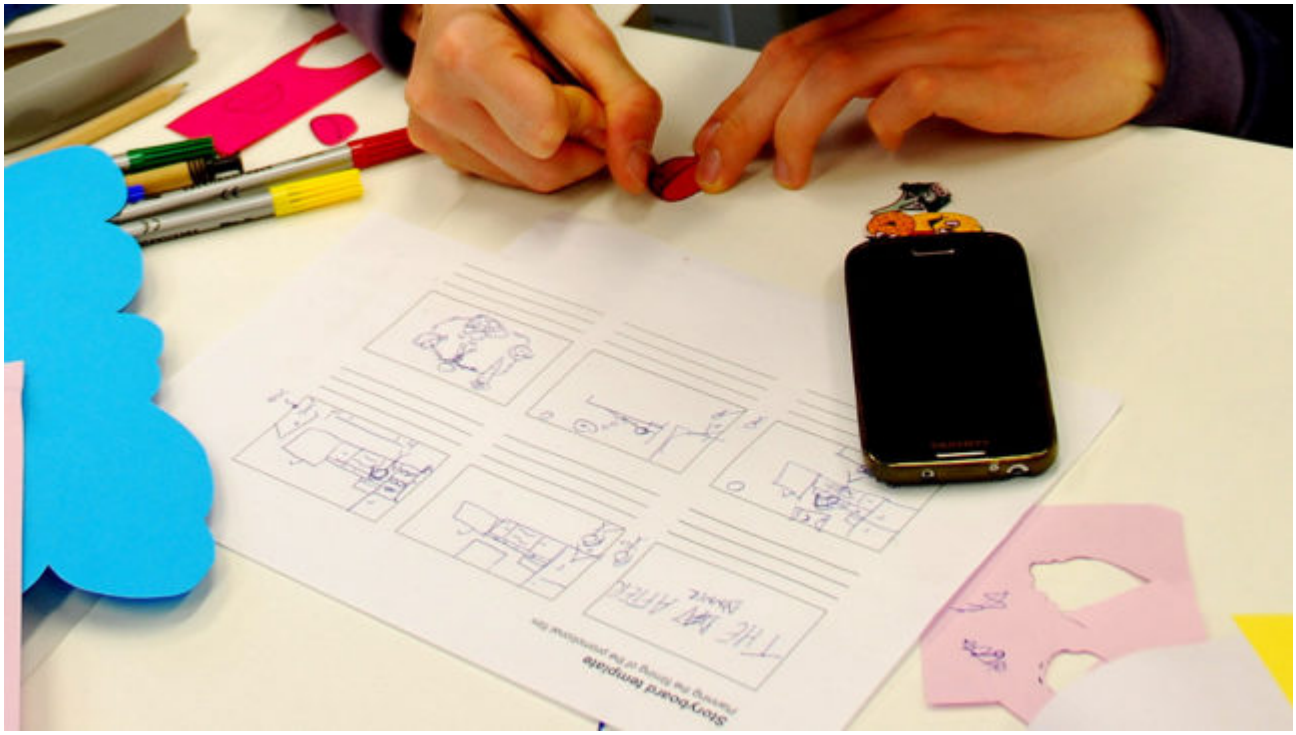

Read More

Basics that every video maker should know

Here you will find further subchapters on the basics of video and film production. ...

Read More

Pre- and post production

Here you will find further sub-chapters on the preparation and follow-up of a film production. ...

Read More

Choose your format of expression

Here you will find further sub-chapters on different film formats. ...

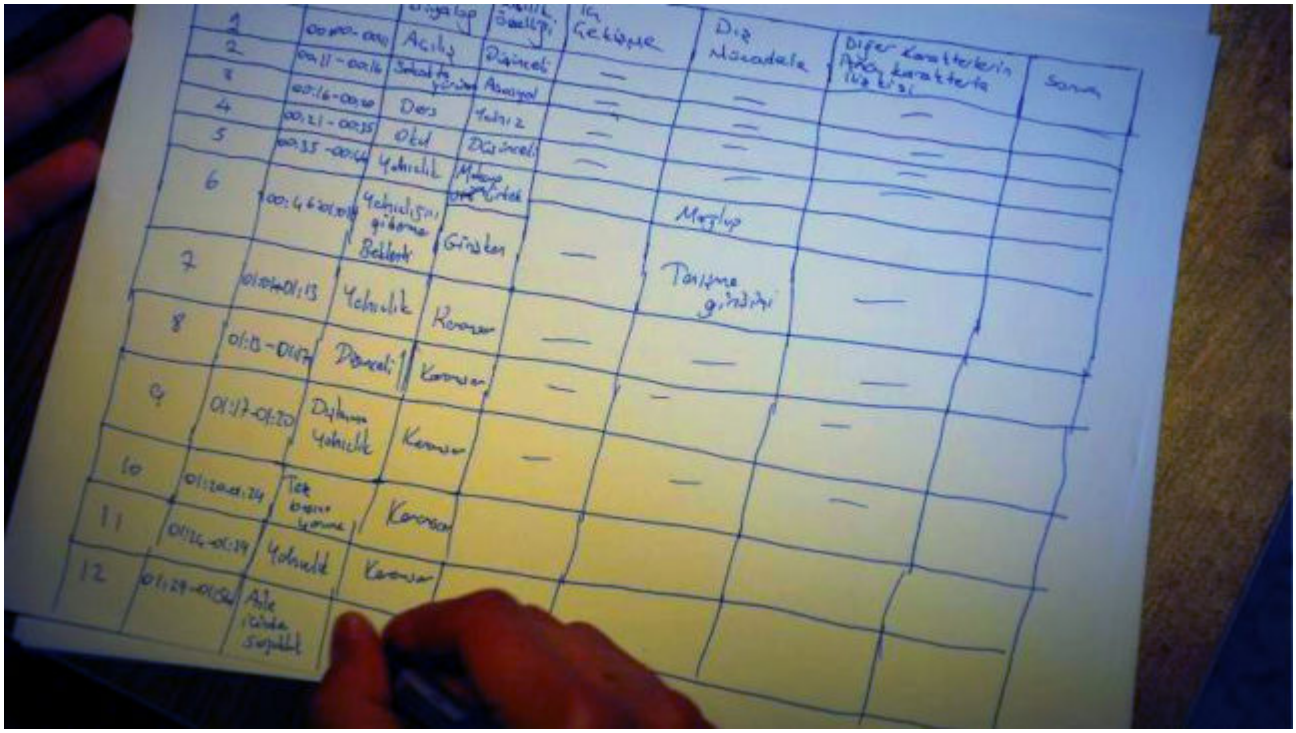

Read More

Applying to and organising film festivals and competitions

Introduction Finalising your film can be a long and challenging process, but it’s not the end of the journey. Now comes the time to present your film to a wider audience. It would be a real shame not to share your film with others. Many films...

Read More

Plot and character analysis

Introduction The content in this chapter is aimed at advanced learners. That’s why we don’t recommend it for young people under 16. Learning about what makes a good feature film can help you write better scripts and storyboards. Even if...

Read More